Why do I need to submit architectural drawings?

Adequate plans and drawings will ensure that your application's proposed design is properly assessed by the DAC, Archdeacons, Registrars, Chancellors, amenity groups and members of the public.

Not every application, however, will require architectural drawings; you should contact your DAC for more detailed advice about whether or not you need to supply plans and drawings.

If you are required to submit plans and drawings, these should be comprehensive, accurate and unambiguous. They should also be drawn to scale rather than dimension.

The following plans may be required for your proposal:

- Site location plan
- Details of site layout
- Building floor & roof plans
- Building elevations
- Finished floor/site levels & sections
- Specialist drawings

Contact your DAC for more detailed advice on the requirements for your application.

What format and size of file should I submit with my application?

It is difficult to outline exactly what size and format of electronic document you should submit with your application as there are so many variables. However, the following recommendations will ensure that your documents are easily accessible to everyone.

File Size

Please ensure that any document does not exceed 5MB. This is to ensure that everyone can download plans or drawings within a reasonable time on a standard broadband connection.

If you are compressing a file to reduce its size or have to split a large document into smaller files, please ensure that you do not lose important details within it and that it is clear to people viewing it online.

For electronic submissions, drawings should be in A3 size (this is the size of the printed paper). This is a common paper size on most office printers – it will ensure that your drawings can be easily printed if necessary.

Your Diocesan Registry might also require electronic files in A1 size. Please contact your DAC for advice.

File Format

We recommend uploading your drawings as Adobe PDF files.

This type of document compresses images and often reduces a file's size automatically. They are also quick and easy to upload to the Online Faculty System (which means they are quick and easy to access for everyone looking at them).

The Adobe Reader software is free to download from the internet (<http://www.adobe.com/uk/products/reader.html>).

Ask your Architect for Assistance

Your architect should be able to supply you with the exact electronic format you require. All you need to do is ask.

However, should your architect send you plans and drawings that are too large or in a different type of format, you can use any number of free conversion tools found on the Internet.

PDFMate is one such free, online tool which will help you shrink the size of the electronic file and convert it to a different format. *Please note that we are not endorsing this tool nor are we saying that this is the only tool to help you compress electronic files. We are simply providing it as an example.

Some DAC offices also have software to shrink and convert files. Contact them for help first.

Use the forms below to develop your proposal. You do not have to complete them all at once – you can always save your work and return to it later.

Once you are confident that your proposal is ready, click "Submit". It will be sent to the DAC who will provide you with advice. You will no longer be able to make changes to your proposal once you have clicked "Submit".

You are encouraged to provide a Statement of Significance and a Statement of Needs (although these documents are only essential when proposals involve changes to a listed church). If you choose not to provide these documents, go to the last page of each relevant online form and click "Finish". Keep in mind that your decision not to supply the DAC with these documents could lead to a delay in providing you with advice.

Use the “Supporting documents and images” tab to attach any other relevant document (including a statement of significance or statement of needs) to support your proposal.

If you wish to withdraw your proposal, click “Abandon”.
