Providing Advice to a List B Application

As DAC, you will be notified by email when a parish submits a List B application for determination by the Archdeacon. You have the option to provide informal advice to assist the Archdeacon with their decision. Once a List B process has started, the only person who can determine whether or not the proposals are a List B is the archdeacon. Should this be submitted to the DAC, and it is clear that it is not a List B item, please provide a comment around this and submit it to them for their determination. If the case is in this List B status, it cannot be converted to a Faculty unless determined by the Archdeacon.

1. To access the application, click the link

   !Image

   A new application (reference 2015-001064) has been submitted for a List B matter(s) and is now awaiting DAC advice.

You will arrive at the List B case file

2. Click here to find out which List B matter was selected

3. Click here to read more details about the application

4. Go to the Supporting Documents and Images tab for additional information
5. Click the Edit icon to provide advice to the Archdeacon

6. Insert your draft conditions or written advice to the Archdeacon in the box (N.B. If you do not wish to comment, write N.A.)

7. Click Finish

8. Click Submit to send your comments to the Archdeacon
Awaiting initial DAC review and form selection

Each Faculty case that will be submitted to you will start in the same way as an informal application, whereby you will decide how the case will progress and what information is required for external consultees and your own Diocesan Advisory Committee to review.

The first part of the application that a petitioner will be able to complete is the summary description, standard information (Form 1) and the Petition details (Form 3), which is the first three pages of the petition document. Once an application has been submitted to the DAC secretary, you will be able to review these forms, as well as the supporting documentation.

Once reviewed, to move the case forward or backwards, select the edit button next to the Initial DAC review form

Once in the form, you have a simple tick box function to follow. If you think that further work is required to the Standard Information form or Petition details, select No, add any necessary comments in the feedback text box, and press finish form. If No is selected, when the form is submitted to the next stage, the application will be sent back to the petitioners for them to edit.

If this No selection is made, the petitioners will receive an email notifying them that the application has been sent back to them, and any comments added in the feedback will be sent to them. It is in this status that the DAC Secretary role can also edit the Standard Information. Importantly, if the application is not a Faculty but is a List A or List B item under the 2022 legislation, the DAC secretary role can Revert the application by pressing the revert button and selecting the List A and B selection process. Should the case have been through the List B process already and was accidentally converted to a Faculty application, the DAC secretary can also Revert the application back to the archdeacon.

If the application does not require this reversion, the petitioners can make the necessary edits required and resubmit this back to you for this initial review process to take place again. Should further work be required, this can again be sent back to them, as explained above. If the application is now suitable for the Statement of Significance and Statement of Needs should be completed, the edit button for the initial DAC review can be selected, and the Yes button can be selected within the form to say that the proposal is ready to proceed. If this Yes box is selected, there is no requirement to enter any feedback.

Once the initial forms are ready, you will be able to select which forms are necessary for completion. Remember that the Statement of Significance and the Statement of Needs are not necessary for every application, and for non-listed churches, there is no requirement for these to be filled in. You can still request that these forms be filled in by the applicant, as they may offer insight into the church and the application, but this is for you to decide. Also, remember that if the case requires formal consultation, these forms will be required by those statutory bodies.

To select which forms are necessary, press the edit button against the DAC form selection.
Within this selection process, you will need to select the relevant statements that are necessary (or none) and then provide an outline of the supporting documentation that are required for the case to be reviewed by both external consultees and your own DAC. If no forms are required, do not select anything and continue to the comments section to request documents.

Within this text box, it may also be advisory to list which questions are required as part of the Statement of significance (if the form is needed) as the format of this has changed to the longer version (see Statement of significance for more details)

Once the selection process is finished, press finish form, return to the application dashboard, and press Submit to send the case back to the petitioners. They will be notified via email as to the forms required (if any), and any text entered within the outline provided above will be included.

Awaiting application form completion

Should you realise that you have made a mistake and further forms are required, you are able to revert the application from this stage back to the Awaiting initial DAC review and form selection, and then go through the above process to edit those needed.

Whilst the application sits within this stage, the petitioners will be able to edit the forms that you selected.

Statement of Significance

The Statement of significance is a required document for proposals that involve making changes to a listed church or other listed building. It is an important tool to help everyone understand the significance of the church building, but it is not required in every case. Where the DAC secretary requests this form, the Statement of Significance will appear on the main page and will be editable by you.

Click here for guidance on writing statements of significance.
To begin, press the edit button to access the Statement of Significance form

The template provided through the system does not need to be completed, but it is advised that the template is followed. Should you wish to provide your own version, the first page will ask if you would prefer to upload this, and if this is the case, this tick box must be ticked to tell the system that the form has been added. Once ticked, please upload the document via the support documents tab.

Within the template provided, not every question is relevant to the proposal, and it would be to explain what questions are required.

The second page of the Statement of Significance asks questions about the setting of the church, details of the living churchyard; the social history of the church; the church building in general and in detail; the contents of the church; and the significance for mission. Each text entered can be as long as necessary, so if you have a large and complex church, each section of the church could be broken down and discussed separately. Once the relevant questions have been entered, navigate to the bottom of the page and press next to move on to the next page.
Section 1: The church in its urban / rural environment.

1.1 Setting of the Church

How does the setting of the church contribute to its landscape / townscapes value and to its significance?

1.2 The Living Churchyard

What is the significance of the natural heritage of the site?

1.3 Social History

What is the historic and present use of the church and churchyard by the congregation and wider community? How does this contribute to its significance?
The third page asks further questions about the significance of the area affected by the proposal, where you are asked to identify the parts that will be affected directly and indirectly by the proposed works and then set their individual significances. Once the relevant questions have been entered, navigate to the bottom of the page and press next to move on to the next page.
The fourth page asks further questions about the assessment of the proposals, specifically around their impact and how, where possible, how you hope to mitigate these impacts. Furthermore, if you have used any sources of information within this Statement, these can be added to a central text box. Once the relevant questions have been entered, navigate to the bottom of the page and press next to move on to the next page.
Pages fifth through the seventh page subsequently asks for image files related to the floor plans, interior images and exterior images of where the work will take place.

To upload these files, press the ADD button and then

1. Insert your image file
   a. You can Drag & Drop a file into the middle of the box using your computer's mouse
   OR
b. You can also choose to upload a file by locating it on your computer. Click Select file…

2. Write a description of the image and click Upload

Once you have uploaded the image, press Next or Finish to move onto the next page or to finish the form
Statement of Needs

The Statement of needs is a required document for proposals that involve making changes to a listed church or other listed building. It is an important tool to help everyone understand the needs of the proposal, but it is not required in every case. Where the DAC secretary requests this form, the Statement of Significance will appear on the main page and will be editable by you.

Click here for guidance on writing statements of needs.

To begin, press the edit button to access the Statement of Needs form.

The template provided through the system does not need to be completed, but it is advised that the template is followed. Should you wish to provide your own version, the first page of the form will ask if you would prefer to upload this, and if this is the case, this tick box must be ticked to tell the system that the form has been added. Once ticked, please upload the document via the support documents tab.
Should you wish to complete the online Statement of needs form, press the next button to go to the next page.

The second page asks for details that are general to the Parish and the building. Once entered, these details will appear in future statements of needs in any future application. Complete this page and press the next button to go to the next page.

Repeat the same process for page three, where you should explain why you need to do the work requested; page four, which asks you to set out what you are proposing to do in order to meet the needs set out in the previous; page five, which asks you why do you need the works and why you need to them now; and page six, which asks petitioners to justify and explain how the proposals would result in public benefits when the works are likely to harm the significance outlined in the Statement of significance.

Press Next or Finish to move the Statement onto the next page or to finish the form.
Finished Forms

Once all of the forms have been completed (with green ticks next to each of the forms to signify this) and all of the supporting documents requested by the DAC secretary have been uploaded, you are able to send the case forward to the DAC secretary for review. To do this, simply press Submit and then confirm that you wish to send the case forward. Once submitted, you will lose the ability to amend the forms or add any further supporting documentation until it is returned to you.
DAC review pre-formal consultation

Once the petitioners have submitted the forms back to you, you, as DAC secretary, and/or members of the DAC can review the application as needed. Within this stage, there are a number of processes which can be completed.

Within the main application page, you will be met with the following interface, where you will be able to edit the pre-formal consultation form and send the case to external persons or bodies for pre-application advice.

Selecting the Pre-Application Consultation Request button will lead to the invite consultee function that you are used to appearing. Here you can select the relevant bodies that you have within your dioceses and contact them to gain early support or advice. This could be statutory bodies or your DAC members. To send these requests, select the relevant body or person, write a message at the bottom of the page, and then press OK to send the email. Your parish members also have the ability to conduct this pre-application advice in this stage, and you can control which consultees are available to be included within this list (see Managing your List of Consultees)
Sending the case back to the petitioners

Should changes be required to any of the forms, or if any documents are missing, you have the ability to send the application back to the petitioners for them to complete and/or add these. This process may be needed several times, as the case should only move forward once the forms are finalised, as it will cause delays with any formal consultation that will follow, as these forms and documents will be required by those bodies. If they are not complete, extra time may be required for the consultation period, or your Chancellor may direct at a later point to issue a further round of consultation so that these statutory bodies can review the full proposals. You are also able to do this if needed.

To achieve this, press the edit button on the main dashboard next to the DAC review pre-consultation
Within this form, you will be met with the following screen. Select the first option, the application is not ready, write the necessary feedback (which will be sent in an email to the petitioners) and press Finish Form. Within the main dashboard, press Submit, and the case will be sent back to Awaiting application form completion, where the applicants will be able to edit the forms again and resubmit this back to for review. Again, this may be checked by you, and the same process can take place until you are happy (or the Parish are insistent) that the case moves forward to review.

Due to the change in legislation, formal consultation with national bodies such as Historic England, Amenity Societies, and the Church Buildings Council has been brought forward prior to the notification of advice. The documentation required as part of this statutory process will need to be in a format that is acceptable for their review, and this is why this loop system has been created.

Sending the case forward to Formal Consultation

In the acceptance form, selecting the second option and then pressing Finish form, and Submit, will send the application forward to the formal consultation period, where the invited statutory bodies each have 42 days to review and respond to the proposals set out by the petitioners.

Sending the case forward to Notification of Advice, avoiding formal consultation

Not every case requires a formal consultation, and the system has been designed to allow for the consultation period to be bypassed. To send the case forward to the notification of advice, In the acceptance form, selecting the third option and then pressing Finish form and Submit will achieve this.
Formal Consultation

Under Part 4 of the Faculty Rules, formal consultation with national bodies is now required prior to the DAC giving their notification of advice. In many dioceses, the DAC secretary is the one who directs this function, but under Rule 4.1, the Parish are the ones who should manage this. The system has therefore been created and adapted to allow for both the Parish and the DAC secretary to control this process. To achieve this, from a DAC perspective, the DAC secretary should only process formal consultation requests on behalf of the Parish if the Chancellor has indicated that they are content with this way of working. If your chancellor does not authorise this, or it is the policy of the Diocese to focus on parish consultation requests, you will need to advise the PCCs who should be consulted, either offline or via the feedback function available in the pre-formal consultation review process.

Each person/body who is invited to formally consult on a case has a statutory period of 42 days to respond. Should you forget to invite a body after 40 days, and they are legally required to consult on the proposal, they themselves will have 42-days to respond, which could result in a total of 82 days of consultation. Always remember then to invite all bodies necessary as early as you can. An online response function has been developed to allow these external bodies to reply directly through the system, and under the 2022 rules, their response should be directed via this response form rather than through external emails.
Inviting Bodies to formally consult

To invite bodies to formally consult on cases during this consultation period, you will be met with the following new form when the application sits in the Formal Consultation period. To invite Formal Consultees, press the Formal Consultation Invite button.

You will then be invited to select the relevant bodies that are required to be consulted. Usually, these are Historic England, National Amenity Societies, Local Authorities, and the Church Buildings Council. Unlike the pre-application consultation invite function, this new form will list the Amenity Societies at the top of the page. Select each relevant body (as required), together with the bodies and people who are listed in the consultee list, write an optional message to them, and press OK. This will then send an email to the Joint Committee for the National Amenity Societies (if selected) and the relevant bodies. You may invite anyone that you would like via this function, but each body/person has 42 days to respond. Asking these bodies now discharges the duty of asking. You do not need to chase them for a reply. Should these bodies not respond within the 42-day window, you may move the case forward to the review process of the consultation. Should a body/person contact you to ask for slightly more time, it would be advisable to allow for this; otherwise, the Chancellor may direct that this consultation be completed again at a later point, which adds further to the time of gaining permission to complete the proposal.
The image shows a user interface for inviting consultees. The interface includes a list of statutory bodies that can be selected for invitation, such as The Ancient Monuments Society, The Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, The Victorian Society, and The Twentieth Century Society.

The consultees section contains a table with columns for Name and Consultative role. Individual consultees can be selected or deselected by clicking the checkboxes next to their names. The consultees list includes various names such as "FAS Consultee 1," "FAS Consultee 2," and "FAS Consultee 3." There is also a section for providing an email message, which is optional.

This interface is part of a system designed to manage consultees for a project or organization, likely related to historical or architectural interests.
Reviewing replies

Once relevant bodies/persons have been invited, if you press edit next to the Application Formal Consultation Response, you will be able to view who was invited and how long they have left to reply.

Once inside the response form, you will be met with the following example. Here you will see that four bodies were requested to consult. Each has 42 days to respond, and none of these bodies has yet to provide a response.
A consultee will be able to reply directly through the system, and once replies are given, the responses will be visible to all users, as well as all other consultees. In the below example, Test Consultee has responded twice and is listed as such against their name in the invited consultees table.
In the above example, you will also be able to see that the Test Consultee account responded on behalf of The Gardens Trust, and their response as an Amenity Society is listed against their name. This is an important feature as it allows for those contacting you via email or letter to have their responses added to the online system. These responses will become public during the public notice period, and so it is essential that all relevant correspondence is added and listed against the statutory body in this interface.
Add a response on behalf of a body

Should you wish to add a response on behalf of a statutory body, the Add A response button at the top of the page is available to be selected.

Selecting this button will provide the following interface.
A response can be uploaded via the supporting documents tab if required, but it needs to be marked as such through the tick box function available in this form. You will also need to select the relevant body in the dropdown list under the I am responding on behalf of a Statutory Body field. Here you will select the relevant body. Once selected, you can press either Submit Response or Decline to Comment. If you select Submit Response, the response table on the main consultation page will list the Statutory body as having commented on the case. If you press Decline to Comment, the table will show that the body has decided not to comment. YOU SHOULD ONLY DO THIS IF YOU RECEIVE COMMENTS OFFLINE, and it is advisable to provide proof of the correspondence via the supporting document tab.
Should the comment from the body be straightforward, you may wish to use the text box included to add the reply directly, again adding the name of the external body.

If you press Submit or Decline without selecting the body in the dropdown table, it will list the reply as coming from you directly. Please make sure to select the relevant body.

Viewing Response

To view individual responses made by bodies, press the View button on the response table found in the formal consultation section.
Once the view button has been pressed, the response by the body will be shown as below, with the name of the person providing the response; the name of the body responding; the date of the response; the proposed works that were reviewed; and the response.

On the main applications page, this view button can be used to view all responses within one PDF document.
Finalising Consultation

Should you receive all of the necessary comments within the 42-day period, or should the 42-days have passed and responses have not been received, you have the ability to finalise the consultation and move the application onto the next stage. Within the consultation responses form, there is a button marked as Finalise Consultation.
If you press this during the 42-day period, the consultation will end. DO NOT PRESS THIS UNTIL THE CONSULTATION IS COMPLETE. As soon as this is pressed, no further consultee will be able to add their response through the online system. If you have ongoing consultations and are waiting on responses and end this consultation period prior to the required 42-days, it will cause issues with how the application is processed.

Once finalised, a green tick will appear on the main application page, and the application can be submitted to the next stage by pressing the Submit button.

Please also be aware that the DAC have the ability to delete responses should these be made in error by the person submitting this. They will need to contact you directly to do this.
This whole consultation process can be completed by the applicant, and you will be notified of when consultation requests were sent, together with who was invited.

DAC review of Formal Consultation

Once the application has been sent to the DAC secretary for review, either by yourself or the Parish, you will be able to review the comments made by the Statutory bodies and either move the case back so that changes can be made or forward it to the notification of advice. To do either, select edit against the DAC review post-consultation form.
Changes in response to Consultation

If following the comments made, you or members of the DAC think that proposal may need to be changed or altered, you are able to send the application back to the applicant to edit the Petition details, the Statement of Significance, and the Statement of Needs, and to add any further supporting documentation. The Petitioner does not have to make any changes if they do not want to. The suggested alterations by the DAC are for the PCC to take on board, and it follows the consultation that was received.

If you, as DAC secretary, decide to send the application back to the applicant, you may add any necessary comments using the interface below. Selecting the first option in the DAC acceptance form will send an email to the applicant with the comments added to the Feedback text box.

To do this, select the first option, add the text and press Finish Form, and then Submit on the main dashboard.
Petitioner makes changes

Once the application moves out of the DAC review stage, the petitioners may make changes to the application and submit this to you for review. This will then move the case forward to DAC Review Consultation Changes.

DAC Review Consultation Changes

Within this stage, you are able to review the changes made to the forms and determine whether or not the case can move forward.

To save on opening each form to see if changes have been made, please utilise the History tab and press show all to see if any changes were made and, importantly, to what parts.
After looking at the changes made, you will be able to edit the response, and you will be met with the following interface. Selecting the first option will send the application to another round of consultation and will therefore loop back to the Formal Consultation process, save that on this second round of consultation, bodies should only be consulted if material changes have been made to the application. The second option will take the case forward for you to issue your Notification of Advice.

Second round of consultation following changes

Should a second round of consultation be required, the specific body that raised objections against the proposal should be contacted using the same method described in the Formal Consultation section above. A statutory period of 21-days is given to these bodies to reply to the consultation, and again you have the power to add their response if you receive it offline and to finalise the consultation should they reply within 21 days. Once this process is followed, the case will then be submitted to the DAC for review of the comments made by the Consultee, and the DAC secretary could then restart this loop with further suggestions should it be required, repeating the same process outlined in DAC review of Formal Consultation
Send Application forward to the Notification of Advice

If following the comments made by the consultees and the Parish are happy to proceed, you may instead select the second option in the DAC review of Formal Consultation form to move the case forward to the Notification of Advice. Do not forget to press Finish Form and then Submit in the main dashboard to move the case forward.

Notification of Advice

Once the formal consultation has been completed, or once the Formal Consultation was decided not to be employed, the application will move into the Notification of Advice. It is at this point that where you can issue your advice based on the information that you have to hand. Remember that a full DAC meeting is not required, and you may utilise your delegated advice where agreed by the DAC.

Within this stage, two forms will now be editable to you, the Notification of Advice and the Public Notice File Selection. To edit the Notification of Advice, click edit.
This will then allow you to edit the first part of Form 2. The first part of this form will be to select whether the advice given was given through a Diocesan Advisory Committee meeting or under Delegated authority. The option chosen here will populate Form 2 with the selection. If the DAC recommends the works or proposals, select the first option given in the recommendation. If the DAC does not recommend the works or proposals, select the second option. If the DAC does not object to the works or proposals, select the third option. Each of these will prompt a different email reply to the petitioners informing them of the DAC's evaluation. Click next to navigate to the next page.

The second page lists the schedule of works. This text box is prepopulated from the Petition Details. The schedule of works or other proposals included in the Petition document and the Public Notice must be described in the manner recommended by the Diocesan Advisory Committee. The schedule of works agreed by the DAC will therefore prepopulate the remaining forms that are submitted to the Registry, so it is important that the works listed in the Notification of Advice are in a format that is suitable to be submitted to the Registrar and Chancellor. If edits are required at a later point due to spelling mistakes or a change in advice, the form is editable until the Public Notice is produced.
The third page includes the selection for marking cases as falling under rule 9.9 and will be displayed through the Public Notice page of the OFS. All cases that are submitted to the registry will be publicly available, but special attention will be given to those cases that are listed as falling under rule 9.9. As the legal right to decide this lies with the Registrar, the Registry are able to edit this at a later point. Also included is the new selection of whether a parish have given due regard to the net-zero guidance provided by the Church Buildings Council. This only needs to be completed if works involve matters to which net-zero guidance applies, and the Committee should give an opinion on whether the proposals are adequate or inadequate. If inadequate, a reason for the opinion should be given.
Lastly, the legislation requires the DAC to list who was consulted as part of the case. This removes the requirement for the DAC to list specific people, as all formal consultation was completed prior to this stage. At the bottom of this section, should the DAC decide that works should go ahead and an objection is raised with which the DAC disagree, a justification will need to be given. In the last two sections, should the objections remain, please list which bodies have objects and then provide the necessary reasoning as to why the DAC disagrees. Remember that this form will be made public during the public notice period. Once finished, press finish form to finalise the form.
Public Notice File Selection

The public notice file selection form is an important form which enables relevant supporting documents to be made public during the necessary public notice period. This form will need to be reviewed before being able to submit the application back to the petitioners. To do this, press the edit button of the public notice file selection.
This form is editable by the Registry, so it may be worthwhile creating a review process between both user types whereby the DAC could select the relevant forms, and this is reviewed by the Registry, or you leave this purely in the hands of the Registry to edit. If this section is not to be completed by the DAC, please press Finish Form. You will, however, notice that the question around 9.9 appears and duplicates the answer given in Form 2. This selection takes precedence over the one that appears in the Notification of Advice and is editable by the Registrar should they deem that the case does or does not fall under rule 9.9.

If you do, however, decide to use this function, this form will automatically list each file that appears in the supporting document tab, including any consultation replies that were added as supporting documents. Each file is automatically turned off and requires the selection to be made public.

If the case is complex and has been ongoing for some time, there may be a large number of documents shown. The intention here is to make those documents publicly available, which should already be available to members of the public if they were to visit the church or registry in person. To do this, click the edit button next to each relevant file.

Select yes and then press the save button.

If the Yes button is selected, a green tick will appear next to the file.
Repeat as necessary, and then press the finish form to return to the application dashboard. Should you find that you made a mistake or require other documents to be shown at a later point, this form will be editable during the later stages of the case.

Once you are happy to proceed and are ready to issue the Notification of Advice, press Finish Form, an email will then be sent to the petitioners, and they will be able to complete the Petition form.

Petition Form

Once the notification of advice has been given by the DAC, the petition form will be made available to the petitioners (and the DAC) to complete in full. Here the details listed in the Petition details form will be added, and the schedule of works specified in the Notification of Advice will be autogenerated, and petitioners will be unable to edit it, as shown below. Should changes be required, please edit the Notification of Advice's Schedule of Works.

Once the Petition form is complete and the petitioners have moved it on to the next, you and the Registry will be notified.

Public Notice

With the petition document complete, the public notice form will be available to be edited by pressing the edit button of the Public Notice form. You may also notice that the petition form is also editable by the petitioners, and this is because the Registrar may revert the case back to the Public Notice status in order for the petition form to be edited.

Once the Public Notice form is open, the address where copies of the plans and documents will be available need to be added. This address is vital, as those without a computer or internet will still need to be given access to view the necessary documents should they request to view them. The start date of the Public Notice is also required, and the end date is automatically calculated from this information. Petitioners will be sent an email on the last day of the Public Notice period to remind them to take the form down. The following is a copy of the text listed in the Parish based guidance.

Once completed, press the finish form, and you will be met with the following information text box.
To print and/or access your Public Notice form:

1. Click the View icon
2. Click Open as PDF for printing

Please note that this function will only work if you have installed Adobe Acrobat Reader software on your computer. This software is free to download and can be obtained by clicking this link http://get.adobe.com/uk/reader/

Please also be aware that as the case has now been submitted to the Registrar, all documents and those forms selected by the DAC or Registrar will be made public until the chancellor has made their determination, as is the requirement of the new legislation. This is also listed on the Public Notice form, and you may direct members of the public to view these forms online if needed.

Public Notice Certificate

During the above process, you may notice that a new form has been added, the Public Notice Certificate. This previously had to be completed and sent via the post. Please do not fill this form in until the Public Notice period is over. You do not have to complete this form to send the application to the registry, but it is a requirement of the law that this is filled in correctly and sent to the registry after the public notice period is over. This may be completed at any point whilst the case is reviewed by the Registrar and Chancellor. The Registrar will be unable to issue the Faculty until the form is filled in. If you complete this too early by mistake, it can be edited later.

Practical Completion Form

This process can be completed by the DAC secretary role, but the text provided is intended for the Petitioner.

Under the legislation, once the faulty has been granted, and once the time granted within the Faculty has finished, the Parish is required to complete the Practical Completion form regardless of whether the works have been completed or not. This is available in your applications dashboard under active cases. Navigate to the application, press view, and then edit the Practical Completion form by pressing the edit button.

Under this form, you will be asked if the works were undertaken. If they have not, select the second option and press Finish Form, and then on the main dashboard page, press submit to finalise the case and to tell the system that it is complete. If the works have been completed, select the first option (as below) and then press Form 8.
On the first page, you will be asked who completed the work.

To add a contractor, press Add a contractor. This will then show the below text box. Start typing the name of the person or company. If they appear, click on their name to select them; if they do not appear, select Add someone new to then add their details to the database.

Once the contractor has been added, add an outline of what work they performed. Once entered, press the Save button to record their details.
Once saved, they will appear as below. If you do not have this, you have not added them correctly. Do not press next until you have saved them, and the text box appears as below. If they do appear as below, press the next button to move on to the next page.

The second page will ask if any architect or surveyor was employed as part of the work and whether or not they provided a copy of the Practical Completion form for the whole or part of the works.
The third page asks whether or not the Faculty granted was completed in full or whether part of the works was completed. A text box is supplied to provide an outline of what works did not take place, and these will be sent to the registrar for them to record.

The fourth and last page asks for any necessary documents that you believe are appropriate to be added. You may not have any.
Once the form is complete, press Finish Form, and then on the main page, press the Submit button to notify the Registrar that the form and case is now complete. Once pressed, this application will be viewable on your Archived Cases tab within your Applications dashboard.
