

View back of church showing the symmetry of the pews.

View from the chancel showing the symmetry of the pews.

View from the tower steps showing the additional space created at the front of church

View looking down the south aisle, showing the openness created.