For info - not sure I really understand what he's done but they certainly looks like there was a lot of worm!

I'll try and get a timescale for phase 2 and a tune.

Subject: Howden Ventil box

Hi,

It turned out that the wind box that I thought it was is actually the ventil for the Open Bass stop – the one we changed the magnets on –

Never seen such a terrible mess – we had to renew the lot!!!

On Wednesday there was a power cut for 3-4 hours because somebody working in the road outside went through a cable and knocked out a couple of hundred houses and the Minster

Anyway all done –

I also climbed in and took the face boards off the open chest and cleaned out all the mess again there plus we cleaned out the insides of the surrounding trunks while everything was dismantled – so let's hope that's the last of it –

Cheers

Andrew
